Cognizant Technology Solutions

Associate

Chennai

02/2024 - Present

Project: Abbott Laboratories

- Developed multiple dynamic components using Sling Models, Sightly (HTL), OSGi services, and servlets, and wrote JUnit test cases, enhancing site functionality with zero SonarQube issues and flawless QA compliance.
- Developed a content migration POC tool using JSOUP to extract live site content of pages with similar structures, such as product and article pages, and automated the creation of new pages with metadata along with assigning extracted content to component properties using Java. This POC demonstrated the potential to significantly reduce manual effort, increase efficiency, and maintain data accuracy in content management processes.
- Implemented multiple listeners to monitor specific sets of secure pages and assets, dynamically updating their statuses on a custom dashboard component, thereby enhancing real-time content visibility and management.
- Established site setups including editable templates, ClientLibs, taxonomy, and custom policies, streamlining site management and ensuring standardized configurations.
- Worked on custom workflows to automate content approval and publishing processes, improving operational efficiency and reducing turnaround times. Developed Coveo integration workflows ("Push to Coveo" & "Delete from Coveo") to dynamically index/unindex AEM pages, ensuring real-time search synchronization
- Resolved Crownpeak issues related to accessibility, SEO, brand compliance, and analytics across multiple sites through automation, significantly increasing site scores and eliminating manual authoring efforts.
- Collaborated closely with cross-functional teams including UX designers, QA, UI Developers, and content authors to deliver high-quality AEM solutions, ensuring alignment with business goals and improving overall product delivery.
- Spearheaded the migration of 16+ websites from AEM 6.5, SDL and WordPress to AEM as a Cloud Service (AEMaaCS), enhancing website scalability, security, and performance.
- Worked on front-end development tasks including styling components and pages, and implemented few enhancements in frontend functionality using JavaScript.

Programmer Analyst02/2023 - 01/2024Project: Abbott Laboratories*

- Reduced manual content authoring effort by leveraging ACS bulk import, Groovy scripting, and metadata automation, successfully migrating 10,000+ data entries.
- Automated the creation of 100+ tags and their assignment to over 2,000+ pages using custom Java code, significantly reducing manual effort and improving efficiency.
- Managed multi-site operations for Abbott's global platforms, ensuring seamless content delivery, localization, and rollout through live copy and language copy management across multiple regions.
- Developed dynamic drop-down menus in component dialogs by implementing Sling servlets to fetch real-time data from third-party APIs based on resource types.
- Designed and implemented editable templates, developed component style system policies, and integrated structured page layouts into templates.

Programmer Analyst Trainee02/2022 - 01/2023Project: Abbott Laboratories*

- Leveraged project management tools such as JIRA and Confluence for efficient task tracking and documentation.
- Conducted unit testing and actively participated in code reviews, contributing to improved code quality and project standards.
- Gained foundational hands-on experience developing AEM components using Sightly (HTL) and Sling Models.
- Assisted in designing responsive web pages using HTML, CSS, and Java.
- Authored pages, content fragments, and experience fragments, and created custom content fragment models to support standardized and efficient content creation.
- Authored pages, CF, XF and created custom content fragment models to support standardized and efficient content creation.
